SECTION 6. Section 75B of said chapter 152 of the General Laws, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out paragraphs (2) to (4) in their entirety and inserting in place thereof the following paragraphs:-

(2) No person or entity, itself or through its agent, may discharge, refuse to hire, or in any other manner discriminate or take adverse action, or to threaten to discharge, refuse to hire, or in any other manner discriminate or take adverse action, against any person because that person has: (i) exercised a right afforded by this chapter, including reporting or seeking care for a work-related injury or illness; (ii) assisted any other person in exercising a right afforded by this chapter; (iii) informed any other person about a right afforded by this chapter; (iv) opposed a violation of this chapter; (v) testified or in any other manner cooperated with an inquiry or proceeding pursuant to this chapter; or (vi) because of a belief that the person may in the future engage in any such actions. For purposes of this paragraph, “adverse action” shall include any action to deprive an employee of any right afforded by this chapter, including through false denial of an employment relationship or false denial that an injury or illness was work related.

(3) There shall be a rebuttable presumption of a violation of paragraph (2) of this section if a person or entity, itself or through its agent, discharges, refuses to hire, or in any other manner discriminates or takes adverse action, or threatens to discharge, refuse to hire, or in any other manner discriminate or take adverse action, against a person within 90 days of that person's exercise of a right afforded by this chapter, including: (i) reporting or seeking care for a work-related injury or illness; (ii) assisting any other person in exercising a right afforded by this chapter; (iii) informing any other person about a right afforded by this chapter; (iv) opposing a violation of this chapter; (v) or testifying or in any other manner cooperating with an inquiry or proceeding pursuant to this chapter. This presumption may be rebutted by clear and convincing evidence that the adverse action was taken for a permissible purpose and that the action would have been taken in the absence of the person's exercise of a right afforded by this chapter. For purposes of this paragraph, "adverse action" shall include any action to deprive an employee of any right afforded by this chapter, including through false denial of an employment relationship or false denial that an injury or illness was work related.

(4) A person claiming to be aggrieved by a violation of paragraph 2 of this section may file a complaint with the attorney general, who may initiate criminal or civil proceedings pursuant to section 27C of chapter 149. Alternatively, a person claiming to be aggrieved by a violation of paragraph 2 of this section may, within 3 years after the violation, initiate a civil action; provided, however, that the 3-year limitation period shall be tolled from the date that the person files a complaint with the attorney general alleging violation of paragraph 2 of this section until the date that the attorney general's office declines to pursue enforcement of that complaint or the date that an enforcement action by the attorney general becomes final. A person so aggrieved who prevails in such an action shall be awarded treble damages, as liquidated

77 damages, for any lost wages and other benefits, other actual and compensatory damages, costs of 78 litigation and reasonable attorneys' fees and may be awarded injunctive relief, punitive damages 79 and other appropriate relief.

80 (5) Upon a determination by the commissioner that a request for data maintained by the 81 department is intended to be used in such a manner as to violate the purposes of this section, the 82 commissioner may find that the disclosure of such data constitutes an unwarranted invasion of 83 personal privacy pursuant to chapter 4 and deny said request. Nothing in this section shall be 84 construed to prohibit an insurer's right to obtain information held by the department regarding 85 any employee who has filed a claim against such insurer.
